Articles

This week's articles highlight the power that new technology has in attracting a new generation of talent along with the importance of preventative maintenance programs and how Steelhead's maintenance feature supports holistic plant management.

Shop Spotlight

National Plating Company

With a rich history dating back to its inception by John Miszewski in 1909 and subsequent incorporation in 1920, National Plating Company has stood as a paramount figure in the realm of metal finishing for over a century in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

A legacy as a family-owned and operated establishment has enabled them to uphold an unwavering commitment to advancement, excellence, and the contentment of their clientele. Notably, this commitment to progress and customer satisfaction has been exemplified through the strategic implementation of Steelhead's cutting-edge job shop software, streamlining operations and enhancing customer experiences.

Under the stewardship of Daniel Hernandez, a distinguished infantry marine with combat tours under his belt, the reins of National Plating Company were assumed. Daniel's profound comprehension of discipline, meticulousness, and the pursuit of greatness kindled his quest to elevate the company to unprecedented heights. With his guidance, National Plating Company not only preserved its dedication to unparalleled quality but embarked on an ambitious journey towards achieving ISO 9001:2015 certification, a globally acclaimed hallmark of quality management.

This steadfast devotion to continuous enhancement, coupled with an unyielding emphasis on customer gratification, has remained instrumental in fostering consistent expansion over the passage of time.
