Generations Homecare System

Features in Generations Homecare System such as; visit notes, wellness questions, and a required task list can help care teams keep track of client health while giving care recipients and their families peace of mind that the right care is being delivered. Here are some ways homecare agencies are using visit documentation tools in Generations:

- Record information about recent client visits with Visit Notes.
- Wellness questions to monitor the well-being of the client, as they are asked of a caregiver upon completion of a shift.
- Required tasks to ensure care plan adherence.

Electronic documentation tools in Generations Homecare System help agencies run their business efficiently and help them streamline processes, such as billing.
